THE CAMPUS DATING SHOW

Looking for the perfect match between students and their campus.

the design challenge

ALONE IN A CROWD

Create something for university students to combat the paradox of feeling alone in a crowd, and help them interact and connect meaningfully.

what we found

OUR FOCUS: SPACE

Students leave campus about 30 seconds after class. The building gives them no reason to stay, so friendships never get the chance to start.

So we focus on the space itself: turning campus spots into places worth staying in.

OBJECTIVE & OUTCOME

objective

Get inspiration from students on how the campus can make them feel connected.

outcome

4 ideas for campus spaces that go beyond the usual events and help first-year students start a friendship and actually bond.

how might we

...shape the campus so it lures students into a shared space, where they actually interact and build friendships?

how we customized it

DRESSED AS A DATING SHOW

- Dating show invitations
- Speed-dating pairs & timer
- Dot stickers for voting
- Printed dead zone photos
- Museum entrance tickets
- Red yarn to connect ideas

A playful frame lowers the pressure, so strangers start talking.
